INGREDIENTS

- 1/2 cup butter (softened to room temperature)
- 1 TBSP fresh basil leaves
- 1 TBSP fresh parsley
- 1 TBSP fresh chives
- 1 clove garlic (finely minced)
- 1 tsp olive oil (optional)

STEPS

1. Soften the butter to room temperature and place it in a medium bowl.
2. Finely chop all herbs and add them to the bowl with the butter.
3. Mince garlic as finely as possible and add it to the bowl.
4. Add the olive oil to the bowl if using and mix until all the herbs are evenly incorporated.
5. Scoop the herbed butter mixture into the center of a piece of parchment paper.
6. Spread the butter into a log 6-8 inches long and roll it in the parchment paper.
7. Refrigerate for at least four hours (or overnight if possible).
8. Serve on meats, vegetables, in rice, or whatever else sounds good!

Flavor variations (blend in instead of the herbs above): the zest of one organic lemon and one organic lime (great on fish); 3 TBSP toasted pecans or walnuts, finely chopped, and 2 TBSP honey; 1 TBSP each fresh parsley, chives, rosemary, and tarragon, finely chopped; 2 TBSP fresh mint, finely chopped, and 1 TBSP lemon zest (great on lamb); 3 TBSP fresh dill, finely chopped, and 1 TBSP orange or lemon zest (great on fish or vegetables).

> Heart-healthy tip: Butter is high in saturated fat. Use a thin slice, or stir the same herbs and garlic into olive oil for a drizzle that's easier on cholesterol.
