Grilled Caesar

A smoky, crisp side for steak night, with a lighter yogurt dressing

Rick's photo

Serves 4
Prep 10 min
Grill 2 min
Pairs with steak

DRESSING

- ½ cup plain Greek yogurt
- 2 Tbsp grated Parmesan
- 1 Tbsp lemon juice
- 1 Tbsp olive oil
- 1 tsp Dijon mustard
- 1 tsp Worcestershire
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- Black pepper, splash of water
- Optional: 1 anchovy, mashed

SALAD

- 2 romaine hearts
- Olive oil and a pinch of salt
- Shaved Parmesan
- Croutons or toasted breadcrumbs
- Lemon wedges

STEPS

1. Whisk all the dressing ingredients together. Thin with a splash of water if needed and set aside.
2. Halve the romaine hearts lengthwise, keeping the root end on so they hold together.
3. Brush the cut sides lightly with olive oil and sprinkle with salt.
4. Grill cut side down over high heat for 1 to 2 minutes, until charred but still crisp in the middle.
5. Plate, drizzle with dressing, and top with shaved Parmesan, croutons, pepper, and a squeeze of lemon.

Tip: Grill the romaine while the steak rests. No grill? A ripping-hot cast-iron skillet works great. The yogurt dressing keeps the Caesar flavor with far less saturated fat than the classic.