Grilled Carne Asada Tacos with Street Corn

Citrus-marinated flank steak on warm corn tortillas, with grilled street corn on the side

Illustration

Serves 2, with leftovers
Marinate 2–8 hours
Grill 4–5 min per side
Rest 10 min

CARNE ASADA

- About 1½ lb flank steak, trimmed
- Juice of 1 orange
- Juice of 2 limes
- 4 cloves garlic, minced
- ½ cup chopped cilantro
- 1 jalapeño, seeded and minced
- 1 tsp cumin
- 1 tsp chili powder
- 2 Tbsp olive oil
- Salt and pepper

FOR THE TACOS

- 8–10 corn tortillas
- 1 small white onion, diced
- Fresh cilantro, chopped
- Lime wedges
- Salsa or pico de gallo

STREET CORN

- 4 ears corn, husked
- ⅓ cup plain Greek yogurt
- Juice of 1 lime
- 2 Tbsp crumbled cotija cheese
- Chili powder
- Chopped cilantro (optional)

CARNE ASADA

1. Whisk the orange juice, lime juice, garlic, cilantro, jalapeño, cumin, chili powder, olive oil, salt and pepper. Put the steak and marinade in a zip bag or dish, turn to coat, and refrigerate 2 to 8 hours.
2. Heat the grill to high. Take the steak out of the marinade, pat it dry, and let it sit out about 20 minutes.
3. Grill the steak 4 to 5 minutes per side, until nicely charred outside and medium-rare to medium inside (130–140°F).
4. Rest the steak 10 minutes, then slice it thin against the grain and chop into bite-size pieces.

STREET CORN

1. Grill the corn over high heat 10 to 12 minutes, turning often, until charred in spots.
2. Stir the Greek yogurt with the lime juice and a pinch of salt. Brush or spoon it over the hot corn, then sprinkle with a little cotija, chili powder, and cilantro.

TACOS

1. Warm the tortillas on the grill for 20 to 30 seconds per side.
2. Pile on the steak and top with onion, cilantro, a squeeze of lime, and salsa or pico. Serve with the corn.

Keep leftovers in the fridge up to 3 days. Reheat the steak quickly in a hot skillet so it stays tender.

> Heart-healthy tip: Flank steak is lean, so trim off any visible fat. Corn tortillas, Greek yogurt in place of mayo or sour cream, and just a sprinkle of cotija keep the saturated fat low and the flavor high.